

April 22, 1999

To Whom It May Concern:

After meeting and speaking with Dr. Rosenbaum, I requested that he become an adjunct here in the Division of Graduate Education. During the Fall 1998 term, I regularly visited Dr. Rosenbaum's class. I witnessed what every college leader hopes to see, a magical and personal teaching style, as well as, the promotion of interactive teaching and learning of a worthwhile innovative subject.

I look forward to Dr. Rosenbaum's continued contributions toward fostering in others healthy intrinsic and extrinsic feelings. His approach in creating healthy relationships certainly gives rise to personal transformation.

I will be glad to assist anyone who would like further information regarding Dr. Mark Rosenbaum.

Sincerely,

H. Kaye, PhD
Prof. Harvey Kaye, Ed. D.
Associate Provost